

Once in awhile I may end up in a place that I need to be moved from, so I'm giving you these magic gloves so that you can nudge me some.
One rule: They may only be worn by the tallest person in your family,
And when they're used, please move me close to the Christmas tree!
I'm really excited for all of the fun things that I have planned,
And thank you in advance for giving me a helping hand!
